2021 DIANA R. GARLAND AWARD

Jennifer Shepard Payne, PhD, LCSW

The recipient of this year's Garland award is Jennifer Shepard Payne, PhD, LCSW. Dr. Payne has been a practitioner and researcher within the Black community for decades, with a focus on supporting Black congregations in raising their capacity and skill to respond to mental health concerns within their churches. In particular, through her work she has sought to support clergy serving in urban areas, who often are exposed to high amounts of trauma themselves. Most recently she has been working to culturally adapt Acceptance and Commitment Therapy to work with racial trauma in the black community. During this past year, as clinicians of color worked to address the trauma experienced as a result of police brutality, Dr. Payne worked actively with MEND, a non-profit serving clinicians of color desiring to address trauma in their communities, to provide training to clinicians across the country in order to equip them to best serve their clients. She sits on the Board of Directors of MEND, and over this past year has conducted numerous trainings for clinicians on applying ACT models with their clients. More information on MEND can be found here as well www.mendminds.com. She also serves on the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion committee of the Association for Contextual Behavioral Science and on the CSWE Disabilities Committee. In her private practice, Direct To God Counseling and Consulting (www.directtogod.com), she provides ACT counseling and coaching primarily to African Americans of faith suffering from anxiety or trauma.

Practitioner Excellence will be given out during the NACSW Community Conversations Meeting on Saturday, November 20 in Glendale 4 & 5.

THURSDAY MORNING PRECONVENTION INSTITUTES

OPTION 1 9:00 AM-12:15 PM & 1:00-1:15 PM (Full-Day 6.0 CE hours)

Exploring the Enneagram: Empowering Social Workers to See Themselves as Beloved and Sustained by God

PRESENTER: Dr. Jon E. Singletary | LOCATION: Glendale 1 & 2

The Enneagram is a spiritual tool, a symbol that is an illustration for various ways (9 ways) we connect to God, ways we can understand ourselves (aka, personality), ways we can strengthen relationships.

My favorite Enneagram metaphor is from a Christian small group study book by Alice Fryling: A mirror for the soul! The Enneagram is not magical or mystical, but when used by people of faith, in prayer and with discernment, it can be a mirror for the soul, a way to see ourselves more clearly, to see us the way God sees us, as beloved, and to live out that reflection in response to God's calling, as a means for compassion and grace, in the hurting world that surrounds us!

Dr. Jon E. Singletary has been the dean of the Garland School since 2015. He previously served as Associate Dean for both undergraduate and graduate studies since 2010. He joined the faculty in 2003 after completing his Ph.D. at Virginia Commonwealth University. Before coming to Baylor, Dr. Singletary was pastor of Richmond Mennonite Fellowship in Virginia.

While serving as pastor, he worked with his congregation to organize a coalition to support nonviolent initiatives in the local community. Before serving as pastor, he worked as a community organizer for an agency providing healthcare to people who were homeless and for a Catholic community settlement house. He has earned an M.Div. from the Baptist Theological Seminary at Richmond and an M.S.W. from VCU.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON PRECONVENTION INSTITUTES

OPTION 2 1:00-4:15 PM (Half-Day 3.0 CE hours)

Mental Health in the Church: A New Approach to Building Community

PRESENTER: David Mandani, MSW, LCSW | LOCATION: Glendale 6 & 7

People with lived experience, and their loved ones, have encountered barriers to receiving much needed support, education, and access to fellowship in church communities. Issues of stigma, prejudice and discrimination have thus marginalized this group. This pre-convention institute will provide an emerging practice framework on how to build a sustainable and resilient mental health community in a church setting.

David Mandani served as pastor of mental health at Saddleback Church for five years and he is currently pursuing his doctorate in ministry at The Kings University in Dallas Fort Worth. He is also the Founder and Chairperson of the Board of Saving Face Saving Grace, a Christian mental health organization focused on raising awareness and providing education. His extensive background includes serving as a Vice President at the Orange County Rescue Mission — one of the nation's largest privately funded Christian homeless service providers. Mr. Mandani has over twenty years of service in direct practice, executive leadership, consulting & training, board governance, and church leadership. In addition, David has worked in both emergency room and in-patient psychiatric/mental facilities coordinating care. Diagnosed with schizophrenia at age 18, David offers a unique perspective as a person with lived experience, and he is fully committed to sharing the comfort and HOPE that he has found in Jesus Christ.

Father Greg Boyle, Founder of Homeboy Industries

Barking to the Choir: The Power of Radical Kinship

A native Angeleno and Jesuit priest, from 1986 to 1992 Father Boyle served as pastor of Dolores Mission Church in Boyle Heights, then the poorest Catholic parish in Los Angeles that also had the highest concentration of gang activity in the city.

Father Boyle witnessed the devastating impact of gang violence on his community during the so-called “decade of death” that began in the late 1980s and peaked at 1,000 gang-related killings in 1992. In the face of law enforcement tactics and criminal justice policies of suppression and mass incarceration as the means to end gang violence, he and parish and community members adopted what was a radical approach at the time: treat gang members as human beings.

8:30–10:00 PM | Opening Reception & Poster Presentations

Join us for fellowship and light refreshments in the Glendale Foyer and Glendale Terrace North. Please visit the reception to review the poster presentations and speak to the NACSW Presenters. ROUNDTABLE CONVERSATIONS

During Workshop Sessions C Friday

ABOUT HATE CRIMES

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19 • (1.5 CE Hours)

2:00–3:30 PM | About Hate Crimes | Tropico Room

Roundtables are facilitated conversations on topics of interest to Christians in Social Work that attempt to generate healthy dialogue that allows each participant’s unique perspective to be heard and respected, and to discover what participants can learn from each other in the process. These conversations will provide opportunity for participants to wrestle with the topic of abortion and hate crimes alongside others with similar and different perspectives. As we share our own experiences and understandings, we will consider how this topic and our positions on it relate to our personal values, our faith, and our social work values. Participants will walk away from the discussion with new insight into the nuances and complexity of this social issue.

One-Anothering: A Christian Approach to Professional Ethics

The phrase “one another” is used 65 times in the New Testament. Using John 13:34 as a starting point, this institute will discuss the implications of the Golden Rule for professional ethics, identifying the ethical problems with a literal approach, and recommending a more nuanced principled approach for professional ethics. It will also explore the implications for Christian social work practice with believers and nonbelievers. Finally, it will investigate whether or how a Christian’s conscientious objection should influence professional ethics and practice.

Jim is an ordained Presbyterian minister and President of the School Social Work Association of America. He has been President of the Illinois Association of School Social Workers and the Midwest Council of School Social Workers. He has written four books published by Oxford University Press. He was the Department Chair of Health, Human Services and Public Policy at California State University Monterey Bay from 2010–2016. He was Chair of the Senate Curriculum Committee Council from 2013–2017. Jim is a lifetime member of NACSW.

Through a Christian Lens:
Practice and Advocacy Implications

There will be an update on the DACA legislation as well.
- Outlining critical context and understanding of the current crisis of unaccompanied minors at the border.
- Discussing ways that social workers and people of faith can get involved to advocate for more just policy and to meet needs of people seeking asylum and those here seeking legal status.
